

OUR COUNTRY'S

Colonial

Stone Fence 8-

Due to the popularity of apples in the Northeast, hard cider became quite common. Mixing it with Caribbean rum gave birth to the Stone Fence.
(Hard Cider, White rum)

Rattleskull 8-

Colonial slang for a chatterbox. This porter-rum combo is sure to please.
(Guinness, Rum)

Blackstrap 5.50

This rum mixture is potent and sweet. It was commonly enjoyed by sailors and pirates. Served neat.
(Molasses, Rum)

The name Cocktail came from Colonial times. Betsy Flanagan, an innkeeper, created the word because her inn was frequented by American and French soldiers. Therefore her neighbor, an Englishman, was highly disliked. After a dispute, she ended up killing a number of his chickens and serving them to the soldiers. Because of the intense hostilities between the Nationals and the Tories, this was quite the joke. To add to this, she put tail feathers in the drinks and called them 'Cocktails.'

1850

Sazerac 14-

The official drink of New Orleans. This spiced rye and/or cognac drink is just as popular today as it was back then.
(Rye/Cognac, Peychaud's Bitters, Absinthe, Sugar)

Old Fashioned 10-

Born during an era of many unique drink combos, it is the original throwback to a simpler time.
(Whiskey, Bitters, Sugar, Orange Slice, Cherry)

Manhattan 10-

This whiskey cocktail originated in Manhattan in the 1860s. It was one of five cocktails, one for each borough.
(Whiskey)

Roaring '20s

the start of Prohibition

Lucien Gaudin 10-

This Gin drink is named after the Olympic fencer famous in that era. He was essentially their Michael Phelps.
(Gin, Campari, Vermouth, Cointreau)

Three Mile Limit 10-

Since it was illegal to drink spirits within three miles of American soil, Americans would take their boats three miles off shore for a good time.
(White Rum, Brandy, Grenadine, Lime Juice)

Cognac Sidecar 12-

The grandfather of the Margarita, this drink uses cognac and lemon instead of tequila and lime.
(Cognac, Cointreau, Sour Mix)

Depression Era

post Prohibition

Corpse Reviver 10-

This hair-of-the-dog drink was a commonly trusted hangover drink of the time. It is still a popular cocktail.
(Cointreau, Gin, Lemoncello, Sour Mix)

Bee's Knees 10-

Named after a slang term of the era for being quite good, it uses honey as a mixer.
(Gin, Honey, Lemon Juice)

The Blind Tiger 10-

A secretive way to describe a speakeasy. This is a strong rye drink served on the rocks with just a touch of orange and chocolate.
(Galliano, Rye, Chocolate Bitters)

1950

Classic Martini 10-

Though there are many theories for the origins of the name, what is known was that it was originally served with Gin.
(Gin or Vodka)

Moscow Mule 8-

It was called this for its use of Vodka and its kick. Just add some ginger beer and muddled limes.
(Vodka, Ginger Beer, Muddled Lime)

Big Mac Daddy 10-

One of the most popular and only sweet 'male' drinks of the 1950s. This raspberry-Bourbon drink is meant to make a man feel just like its name.
(Bourbon, Amaretto, Cranberry Chambord)

Bikini Martini 10-

The '50s saw the creation of the bikini and this sweet Gin Martini.
(Gin, Peach Schnapps, Blue Curacao)

HISTORY OF SPIRITS

1960

Bloody Mary 8-

Named after the ill-fated Marie Antoinette, the Bloody Mary has remained a staple for 55 years.
(Vodka, Tomato Juice, Horseradish, Herbs)

Screwdriver 8-

Named after the oil rig workers in the Gulf who would sneak liquor while working; they would mix their drinks with their screwdrivers.
(Vodka, Orange Juice)

Sloe Gin Fizz 8-

This famous drink is not made with Gin at all, instead with a commonly ignored liqueur made from sloeberries.
(Sloe Gin, Lemon Juice, Club Soda)

1970

Brandy Alexander 8-

The Alexander was originally made to support the campaign of fictional character Phoebe Snow to lead the way in replacing coal with anthracite to prevent the blackening of everything with the rains during the 1920s. During the brandy revival in the 1970s the Alexander was reborn as the Brandy Alexander and made this a soft, elegant drink.
(Brandy, Crème de Cacao, Chocolate, Cream)

Harvey Wallbanger 8-

One of the most famous drinks of the 1970s. This drink was a standby and favorite throughout the disco era.
(Galliano, Vodka, Orange Juice)

Grasshopper 8-

Named for its color, this 1970s classic is a mint lover's dream.
(Vodka, Crème de Menthe, Crème de Cacao, Cream)

1980

WooWoo 8-

One of the first known drinks from the 1980s, born out of long hot summers and the New Wave sound. It is sweet and tastes of peaches and cranberries.
(Vodka, Peach Schnapps, Cranberry Juice)

B52 10-

Named originally after the band, the B-52s, who named themselves after the bomber responsible for dropping incendiary bombs on Vietnam.
(Grand Marnier, Kahlua, Bailey's)

Melon Ball 10-

Known for its bright green color and honeydew taste, this drink first appeared as a high end shooter in Los Angeles. Now it is a popular martini.
(Vodka, Midori, Pineapple Juice)

1990

Kamikaze 8-

Thought to be named for its effect on the body.
(Vodka, Triple Sec, Lemon Juice)

Fuzzy Navel 8-

Still a commonly requested cocktail, acquiring its name from peach fuzz and orange navels.
(Peach Schnapps, Orange Juice)

Sex on the Beach 8-

This commonly served island drink is one of the most popular in the world. It was created in Key West, Florida.
(Vodka, Peach Schnapps, Orange Juice, Grenadine)

2000

Trinidad Sour 10-

Created in 2009 by Giuseppe Gonzalez at the Clover Club in NYC and Whistler's in Austin, Texas.
(Orgeat, Rye, Lemon Juice, Angostura Bitters)

50/50 Manhattan 10-

Out of Los Angeles, this is a newer, gentler take on the Manhattan.
(Whiskey, Sweet Vermouth, Angostura Bitters)

Jungle Bird 10-

Guiding the tiki drink into the new millennium, the Jungle Bird has emerged from the NYC bars the Cannibal and the Resto.
(Dark Rum, Campari, Lime Juice, Pineapple)

2020

Right now we are in our 'Classic Cocktail Revival.' But who knows what the future will hold??

We have created for you:

The Glowing Margarita 12-

(Tequila, Cointreau, Lime Sour Mix)

The Fireworks Cosmo 10-

(Vodka, Citron)

Layered Kir Royale 10-

(Prosecco, Cassis)